PASSING

Nella Larsen

When she reconnects with her childhood friend Clare Kendry, who is similarly light-skinned, Irene discovers that Clare has been passing for a white woman after severing ties to her past--even hiding the truth from her racist husband.

A best seller in France, The Anomaly is a prime example of the exciting translated international literature we feature at Leopold's. This genre-defying phenomenon features an ensemble cast of characters on a flight from Paris to New York who hit mysterious turbulence and find themselves in a familiar but strange new reality. Think Lost meets Jean Paul-Sartre.

THE SOUL OF AMERICA | Jon Meacham

With clarity and purpose, Meacham explores contentious periods and how presidents and citizens came together to defeat the forces of anger, intolerance, and extremism. "Meacham tells us we've been here before and can find our way out, urging readers to enter the arena, avoid tribalism, respect facts and listen to history." - The Washington Post

SHOULDER SEASON | Christina Clancy

This smash hit set in the early 1980s at Lake Geneva's Playboy Resort, known today as the Grand Geneva, is a dazzling portrait of a young woman coming into her own, the youthful allure of sex, drugs, and rock and roll, and what we lose—and gain—when we leave home. You can sometimes spot author Christina Clancy working on her next book at Leopold's.

JERUSALEM

Yotam Ottolenghi & Sami Tamimi

Both chef/authors were born in Jerusalem in the same year, Tamimi on the Arab east side and Ottolenghi in the Jewish west. Long time collaborators, this is their most personal cookbook yet featuring both traditional and modern dishes that can be cooked with ingredients in a western kitchen.

MADISON CHEFS | Lindsay Christians

Why do Salvatore's tomato pies have the sauce on the top? Where did chef Tami Lax learn to identify mushrooms in the woods? How did Morris develop its signature ramen? Lindsay Christians' in-depth look at nine creative, intense, and dedicated chefs captures the reason why Madison's food culture remains a gem in America's Upper Midwest. This beautifully illustrated book will leave you salivating—or making reservations.

MYSTERY TO ME

1863 Monroe St, Madison, WI 53711

THE GRACE YEAR | Kim Leggett

The Handmaid's Tale meets The Hunger Games, soon to be a movie produced by Elizabeth Banks??

YOU LET ME IN Camilla Bruce

The set up: Eccentric romance writer disappears. Her will weirdly states that if she hasn't been seen for a year, her will should be executed. Sure! Why not!

The beneficiaries: her niece and nephew.

The terms of the will: they will inherit her vast fortune IF they can find the secret code word in her final, unpublished manuscript.

The manuscript: an autobiography. About her life. AMONG THE FAIRIES.

THE GUEST LIST Lucy Foley

Is everyone in your life getting married?? We bet they are! But you've never been to a wedding like this...

On a remote Irish island (SWOON!), a socialite and posh survivalist are getting married with no expense spared. But the guy's old schoolmates are all there and they're...off. And the bride's estranged family has decided to attend, which is...odd.

And then a torrential storm hits. Ah, the sounds of love!

I'LL BE GONE IN THE DARK Michelle McNamara

Murderinos unite!! (Don't know what a Murderino is? Bookseller Charlotte will be happy to tell you all about the lifestyle.) This is THE TEXT on the Golden State Killer! If you're a true crime nut and you haven't read this book, RUN TO US! (Also look out for Detective Paul Holes's forthcoming book about his time working cold cases. Ask us how to pre-order!)

FORTUNE FAVORS THE DEAD Stephen Spotswood

Why did a man write a mystery story about lesbians in 1940s New York City? We don't know, and weirdly we don't really mind! This book is an absolute romp and really satisfies that craving for "fast-talking queer women who ran away from the circus and now hide their pistol in their cane" content you didn't know you had.

A ROOM OF ONE'S OWN

2717 Atwood Ave, Madison, WI 53704

A Room of One's Own is a Queer & Trans* owned feminist independent bookstore in Madison, WI, established in 1975.

HOW THE ARTS CAN SAVE EDUCATION Erica Rosenfeld Halverson

How the Arts Can Save Education provides a blueprint for using the arts—performing, visual, and multimedia—to rethink what good learning, teaching, and curriculum can be. Halverson presents a bold plan for saving education with an arts-based approach to teaching that focuses on risk-taking as the most important aspect of a successful classroom. Featuring many evocative examples from Whoopensocker, Halverson's artist-in-residence program in Madison schools, the book illustrates how classroom practices and school structures can be reorganized for more inclusive success.

MANYWHERE Morgan Thomas

The nine stories in Morgan Thomas's shimmering debut collection witness Southern queer and genderqueer characters determined to find themselves reflected in the annals of history, whatever the cost. As Thomas's subjects trace deceit and violence through Southern tall tales and their own pasts, their journeys reveal the porous boundaries of body, land, and history, and the sometimes ruthless awakenings of self-discovery.

REPARATIONS NOW! Ashley M. Jones

In formal and non-traditional poems, award-winning poet Ashley M. Jones calls for long-overdue reparations to the Black descendants of enslaved people in the United States of America. In this, her third collection, Jones deftly takes on the worst of today--state-sanctioned violence, pandemic-induced crises, and white silence--all while uplifting Black joy. By exploring the ways we navigate our relationships with ourselves and others, Jones holds us all accountable, asking us to see the truth, to make amends, to honor one another.
